Old Business

1. Building Update – Mr. Smith reported that we are still awaiting the plans from Jim Finney, the architect. He will follow up with him if the plans have not been received by the 13th. Councilman Gilson asked about Bob Barnard's schedule and was told that it should take 8 months from the start date. Mayor Laggis said that he had not heard anything from Mr. Barnard to indicate that there would be any delay in starting, once the permits are issued. He has even had conversations with his subcontractors.
2. Other – Mayor Laggis reported that the transportation committee had met and was told that there was some leftover money from the previous SPLOST. They were tasked to prioritize projects from the master plan. Two of these had direct implications on Woolsey. They were reconfiguring Hampton Road, which was crossed off the list, and improvements to Highway 92 from McBride to the Spalding County line. Councilman Wright mentioned that it might not be a bad idea to start thinking about a Historic Preservation designation.

New Business

1. Emergency Services Breakfast – Saturday, December 2nd at 9:00am.
2. Other – Councilman Gilson told Council that Jamie Lovett had some things that she may want to donate to the museum once it is completed.

With no more business to come before the council, the meeting was adjourned at 7:57pm.

Respectfully Submitted,

Stacey Collins, Town Clerk
